A Talk With Senator Barbour on the Virginia Campaign.

A STAR reporter asked Senator Barbour to-day what he thought of the condition of the Virginia campaign. "Our people, (the democrats,) seem to be pretty well satisfied," he replied. "I can't say who is going to be the governor, but we feel The Whisky Trust Bound very confident." "Do you think the attitude of Mr. Langston is going to injure Mahone?"

"Oh, I can't tell about that. It may and it may not. About Petersburg I think it may JACK THE RIPPER IN GERMANY amount to considerable, but it may not amount to so much in the state generally. Mr. Mahone is counting on the negroes voting for the re-Inquest on the Electric Accident in publican party, regardless of their feeling as to him personally and of the manner in which he treats them. Of course, he may make a miscalculation, but you can't tell. It may be that the negroes will simply bleed Mr. Mahone THE AMERICAN BOARD ADJOURNS. and Mr. Quay."

"Is Mahone going to gain white votes by repudiating the negro?"

"No, I do not think he will accomplish anything worth while in that way. The negroes are the dominant element in the party, and when the party is in control they will be in control regardless of Mahone. When he tried to fight Langston in Petersburg and put up his own candidate in the field, Langston got four votes to every one cast for Mahone's candidate, ne's own district, aside from those men he has gathered personally around him, there are not five hundred white votes."

THE DISTRICT'S NEW ATTORNEY. A Talk With Him About the Position to Which he Has Been Appointed.

A representative of THE STAR called upon Mr. George Hazelton, the newly appointed attorney for the District, this morning and found that gentleman snugly ensconced in a large rocking chair in the back parlor of his cozy little home on B street.

"How are you pleased with your appointment?" ventured the reporter as he drew up a chair. "Very much indeed," he replied. "I don't know but that I like it better than the commisssionership. You see the duties are not so arduous, and then again I don't have to please "I see Major Raymond objected to your appointment on account of your lack of knowledge of the local laws. What do you say to that?" "Let my work show for itself," replied Mr. Hazelton. "I go into the office to do my ut-most to subserve the best interests of the District. As far as my not being familiar with the complex laws of the District is concerned I have no doubt but that Congress will have them codified at its next session "How about your assistants? Do you expect to make many changes in the present force?" asked the reporter.

"That I can't answer. I will say, however, that my assistants will be chosen with care and will all be republicans."

communicated with the friends of the defense. The state's attorney will not, therefore, present any new evidence if he can avoid it. "I see," remarked the reporter, "that some of the papers charge that the Commissioners in making your appointment were influenced by a District ring.

"There is not a word of truth in the charge. "Do you think you can be of use to the Commissioners in Congress on account of your former relations with that body?" continued "Yes, I do. There is no doubt but that I can lend them valuable assistance before that body."

As the reporter took his leave Mr. Hazelton remarked:

"You can tell the people of Washington that I will do my utmost for them, and if hard work and close attention to duty are the requisites for success I shall succeed."

A SKETCH OF THE NEW ATTORNEY. Mr. Hazelton, who will assume the office of attorney of the District on December 1, came to Washington as a representative in the Fortyfifth Congress from Wisconsin and served for three consecutive terms. Since leaving Congress he has made his residence here. He is gress he has made his residence here. He is about fifty-six years old and a native of Chester, N. H. He graduated from Union college, Schenectady, studied law and entered the New York bar. He settled in Boscobel, Wis., and soon became prominent as a lawyer. He was elected disprominent as a lawyer. He was elected district attorney of Grant county in 1864 and reelected in 1866. Subsequently he was elected to the state senate, and was chosen president pro tempore of that body. His next public honor was his election to Congress. Since his legislative career closed he has practiced law here being assented for a time with a Part of the congression here, being associated for a time with ex-Repesentative Page of California. The Pension Commissionership. A rumor that reached the pension office today that Maj. Poole of New York had been appointed commissioner of pensions made considerable stir among the clerks and chiefs of divisions there. The pension officials do not express any preference as to whom they would ike to succeed Mr. Tanner, but they would like to have the place filled and the element of uncertainty in the situation removed. Maj. Poole is known to quite a number of the pen sion officials. He was in the city on the 4th of March, and, as a one-armed soldier, he nat-urally drifted toward the pension office. He was then considered the strongest candidate for the place next to Mr. Tanner and his

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Oct. 18 .- The Pan-American tourists awoke this morning in enberg's arrest: Last June Stoltenberg went Grand Rapids, and as soon as dressed were escorted to the Morton house. The depot, hall and all the buildings on the principal streets were profusely decorated with American and Spanish flags. A battery of artillery fired a to a friend—Wm. O. Dahl, a young man em-ployed by a firm of grocers on Madison street— and asked permission to have certain mail that he was expecting come addressed to him (Dahl). Stoltenberg explained that it was a little matter that he wanted to keep quiet. Dahl consented. The first letter came the latter part of salute as the party were driven from the cars to the hotel. Breakfast was served the party at the Morton house, after which carriages were taken and three furniture factories, a sented. The first letter came the latter part of July and was post marked Toronto, Canada. The facts brought to light connecting the name of Stoltenberg's employer with certain individuals in Toronto excited Dahl's suspicions. He said nothing, however, until a second letter arrived some time later. Then he took one of his employers into his confidence and told him the facts. His employer advised him to take the letter to the state's attorney. Dahl did not do so, but refused to receive any carpet sweeper factory and other places of in-terest were visited. At 12 o'clock the visitors witnessed a parade of the fire department. This was a fine exhibition and the delegates applauded the special feats of the firemen warmly. At the finish of the parade the party went to Sweet's hotel, where luncheon was served. Mr. Clem Studebaker joined the party last evening just as they left Ann Arbor. ELIZABETHTOWN, OHIO, Oct. 18.-At 8 o'clock last night Tobe Hayburst and Roll Haves became involved in a quarrel in front of the village post office. Hayburst, who had been drinking heavily; was the aggressor. He followed up his abusive language by slapping Hayes in the face. Hayes made no attempt at retaliation until Hayburst slapped him a second time, and according to statements of second time, and, according to statements of specta-tors, drew a knife. As he seized Hayes with his left hand there was a muffled report and Hay-burst fell to the ground with a bullet "through Spalding of Colorado and Scarborough of New Jersey. There was a small attendance. The deputies are too well seasoned to services to deprive themselves of their natural rest to come to hear their bishops. The galleries, however, were well filled with ladies.

At 10:20 Dr. Dix called the house to order. Not more than 150 of the members were present. The reports of the different standing committees were then presented. The committee on canons presented a report on the proposed establishment of a missionary episcopate for the colored people. the complete control of the market, the outcome of which is to determine whether it is everybody knows it already has within its clutches all the western distilleries save about half a dozen. The fight of the trust against those outside the trust has been a bitter one always, but now it is being carried on with more than the usual energy. The trust has attempted to undersell the outside distillers at every point and the result of the competition thus brought about has been a reduction of from 10 to 15 cents a gallon in the finished product within the last four or five weeks. The occasion for the present special activity of the trust is probably found in the fact that a number of new distilleries had been projected or put in operation. The distilleries outside eventually to prove a success or a failure, as or put in operation. The distilleries outside the trust were evidently prosperous. Scores of capitalists knew of the immense profits of the whisky business and talked of going into it, feeling assured that even if they could not succeed they could sell out to the trust without much loss, and generally the case had reached a stage where something must be done to de-monstrate to outsiders that the trust was

THE WHISKY TRUST.

It Must Fight to Make Its Power Felt.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 .- The whisky trust which has been in session in this city for several days is just now engaged in a desperate struggle for master of the situation and that nobody could succeed outside the trust.

The wholesale dealers as a rule seem to regret the success and prospects of the trust. They think it will compel them to pay higher prices and that they will not be able to make their present profits because they cannot in turn increase the prices charged to consumers. It is generally understood that the trust has a large surplus, estimated at from $250,000 to $500,000, out of the profits of past business and that it is ready to spend all of this and more to make its power indisputable.

A Robbery Kept Quiet.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Oct. 18. - News of another big express robbery in Alabama has just leaked out. It involves about $6,000 and occurred at Millsport, Lamar county, a week ago, Walter Abercrombie, a young white man, was brought to this city yesterday by detectives and charged with the robbery. He has been secreted from reporters and his statement cannot be obtained. The night of the robbery the agent of Millsport had in his possession certain packages which were worth about $6,000. By some means the robber learned of it and made his haul. The agent was in the office alone at night when the obber entered, covered him with a pistol and made him hand over the money.

The Territorial Court Hangs Them All. Tucson, Artz., Oct. 18.-A special from Florence says the five Apache Indians tried and convicted for murder were sentenced Wednesday to be hanged. Three were charged with the murder of Diehl two years ago and two had to answer for the murder of Jones. These Indians were all tried in the United States court. Two were sentenced to death and the others to terms of imprisonment in Ohio, On appeal to the Supreme Court it was decided the United States courts had no jurisdiction and now all will have to swing. Her Woman's Way Betrayed Her.

DULUTH, MINN., Oct. 18 .- A pretty blacknaired, black-eyed young woman, evidently about twenty years old, was arrested at Cloquet Wednesday night while tending bar in a saloon dressed as a man. She appeared in that town Saturday and at once applied for work at the saloon of a man named Smith and was promptly engaged as bar keeper. Suspicion was aroused by her woman's way, which she could not disguise. She was not surprised at being arrested and took matters cooly. Her antecedents and name are not known. She says she assumed the disguise to escape from her lover, who is a horse thief. She is still in jail. A Usurer's Fate.

The execution of the note and interest was acknowledged, but the jury rendered a verdict for the defendants, not giving flubbell anything. They completely wiped out even the debt of $8,000 acknowledged and the interest. This is the law in this state now.

An Arctic Eldorado.

OTTAWA, ONT., Oct. 18 .- R. G. McConnell of the geological survey has returned from his inspection of the region between the Peace and Athabaska rivers. He commenced about three hundred miles north of Caigary and extended his operations for some 300 miles further north to the vicinity of Vermillion. This region embraces an area of 30,000 or 40,000 square miles. Little of this tract was ever explored before by white men. A great deal of it is good farming land, but swamps abound and make it unfit for settlement. The trees are principally spruce and poplar. Speaking of the deposits of oil reported to be there Mr. McConnell said he

Inquest on the Cause of Feeks' Death. New York, Oct. 18.-The inquest on the death of Lineman John E. H. Feeks, who met such a horrible death on a telegraph pole, commenced this morning before Coroner Shultz. Mr. Humstone, superintendent of the Western Union telegraph company, and three Western Union linemen testified regarding the position, &c., of Western Union wires on the fatal pole J. W. Darrow, foreman of the gang in which Feeks worked, testified that he instructed Feeks to take down the dead wires on the fatal pole, and that he told Feeks that he need not be afraid of an electric light wire as there were none in that vicinity. Witness further said: "In my opinion Feeks' face was touching a dead wire which may have been grounded, and his feet were on a Western Union or telephone wire. Since the accident l
